THE GREAT AMERICAN SMOKE-OUT...Nov. 18. Approximately 55 million Americans still smoke including our own Appomatox County Sheriff, Gene Richardson, left, and Town of Appomattox Police Chief, James Ford, right. The American Cancer Society asks that you, if you are a smoker, refrain from smoking on Nov. 18 for the entire day. This means you too, fellows! After all, if you try it you might like it! Burley Sheeted Tobacco - The U.S. Department of Agriculture has approved a new rule providing farmers official grading of U.S. Type 31, burley tobacco offered for sale at auction when displayed untied on burlap sheets. This rule contains the following provisions that farmers must comply with in order for their tobacco to be eligible for a U.S. Standard grade:

1. The tobacco must be oriented. This means the leaves must be placed on the sheet in a round or square pile with all the butts toward the outside of the pile.

2. A lot or pile shall constitute only one sheet--stacking one sheet on top of another will not be permitted.

USDA Requires 2-Cent Producer Contribution For Fire- and Sun-Cured Tobacco - As a condition for price support on 1983 fire-cured (types 21-23) and sun-cured (type 37) tobacco, producers must agree to contribute 2 cents per pound to a no-net cost tobacco account on all these types of tobacco sold, a U.S. Department of Agriculture official said recently.

Everett Rank, administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said the contributions ensure the fire-and sun-cured tobacco support programs will be operated at no net cost to taxpayers in conformity with the No Net Cost Tobacco Program Act of 1982.

The three associations that handle these kinds of tobacco and operate the price support program for USDA recommended a 2-cent contribution, and USDA has determined the 2-cent contribution will be sufficient to ensure the financial integrity of the program for these kinds of tobacco.

Producers who do not agree to contribute to the no net cost account will be ineligible for price support and subject to a per pound penalty of 88 cents for type 21 fire-cured tobacco, $1.17 for types 22 and 23 fire-cured, and 80 cents for type 37 sun-cured on all tobacco marketed.

The penalty equals 75 percent of the previous year's average marketing price and is the same penalty which applies to the marketing of excess tobacco.

Fire-cured and sun-cured tobaccos are grown principally in Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia.

Consider using as much no-til farming as possible next year. There are a number of reasons and they all add up to more dollars in your pocket.

Look over the farm -- how many areas are there with cover that could be killed. Limit the number of acres that will be plowed -- you'll make higher yields, use less fuel, and reduce soil loss. Even now, if there are field that can be seeded to rye--get it seeded.

Research work in Virginia over the long run, five plus years, when corn is planted in a killed rye sod will return 16% more bushels than conventional planting. If you double cropped soybeans behind small grain, plant next year in corn -- yield can be 20%+ higher. Reduction in fuel costs may be as much as four gallons per acre. While all of these are immediate responses and reflect more dollars in the pocket at the end of the year, there are long term values. Soil losses on conventional grown corn can exceed 10 tons per acre, while no-til corn can be less than one ton.

You may need to make some planter adjustments this winter to plant no-til, but there's plenty of time for that. The important consideration is to get a cover seeded if one isn't available.

One more positive point, if you are one of those who has not been sod planting, there is a ACP practice that pays $15 an acre. Take advantage of this.

Last week talking with a good dairyman--he said, "I do have some orchardgrass that I could use. Orchardgrass will qualify for the ACP payment. When orchargrass is the cover-killing the sod is a bit more difficult. We would recommend the following chemicals in a sod, corn, corn rotation: one quart Paraquat plus surfactant plus three pounds Atrrex plus two pints Dual. If the rotation is sod, corn, small grain use: one quart Paraquat plus surfactant, plus two pounds Aatrex plus 1 pound Bladex.

When spraying orchardgrass, be sure a fan type nozzle is used. The flood type nozzles do not provide adequate coverage.

* * *

There's a lot of weed seeds germinating in alfalfa fields. Looks like the best plan is to wait until a freeze burns the alfalfa back, then use Paraquat plus Princep.

* * *

Strawberry growers should have several jobs done:

1. All weeds and grass removed.
2. Cultivate and widen row middles to prevent over crowding at picking time.
3. Get much mulch material ready. Pine tags or in larger plantings use small grain straw. If small grain straw is used, put bales between rows so that they can absorb water and sprout grain seed which will die before straw is spread in December.
4. Before putting mulch in place, treat with Devrinol and Tenoran. Tenoran will not be needed if there are no winter annuals germinated.

If there is more than 1/16 inch of creosote in any part of your system (stove, flue, chimney) clean it out. Don't guess, check it out.
